D. APPLETON & CO.'S NEW BOOKS.

THE LIFE OF SIR RICHARD F. BURTON.

By his Wife, ISABEL BURTON. With numerous portraits, illustrations and maps, and two colored plates. In two vols. 8vo, cloth, $12.00.

The career of the late Sir Richard F. Burton, the distinguished traveller, and editor of "The Arabian Nights," was perhaps the most adventurous and romantic of any Englishman of the last generation. He was an encyclopedic scholar, and much more than a scholar. He knew and had seen more of dark Africa than most men, and more of Mohammedan lands than any man. It seemed a simple thing for him to travel in disguise among fanatics where discovery meant death, but his life was many-sided, and his biography illustrates a remarkable variety of interests. Lady Burton has proved her literary ability before, and in these volumes she has done justice to an exceptional opportunity.

CAMP-FIRES OF A NATURALIST.

By CLARENCE E. EDWARDS. The Story of Fourteen Expeditions After American Mammals. From the Field Notes of LEWIS LINDSAY DYCHE, A.M., M.S., Professor of Zoölogy and Curator of Birds and Mammals in the Kansas State University. With numerous illustrations. 12mo, cloth, $1.50

This book sketches big game hunting in the West from a fresh point of view. The author describes the actual adventures and experiences of a naturalist who has hunted from Mexico to the northern confines of British Columbia, pursuing grizzly bears, mountain sheep, elk, moose and other rare game. As an out-door book of camping and hunting this possesses a timely interest, and it also has the merit of scientific exactness in the descriptions of the habits, peculiarities and haunts of wild animals.

A TRUTHFUL WOMAN IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.

By KATE SANBORN, author of "Adopting an Abandoned Farm," etc. A new volume in Appletons' Summer Series. 12mo, cloth, 75 cents.

In her vivacious and picturesque account of Southern California the author of "Adopting an Abandoned Farm" shows the quickness of observation, delightful humor and originality which made her former book so popular with the reading public. Her book furnishes facts as well as amusement, and it will have a permanent value as a truthful picture of Southern California.

NOTES IN SEASON.

GINN & Co. will publish, September 1, "A High School Rhetoric," embodying the main principles of rhetoric in a progressive course of English composition by Professor John F. Genung.

CRANSTON & CURTS, Cincinnati, have in press a choice bit of devotional literature in the form of a book from the pen of Rev. Bishop John H. Vincent, D.D. It is entitled "The Holy Waiting," and will be artistically bound in three styles, with special reference to the holiday season.

THE SCIENTIFIC PUBLISHING CO. have just ready a work on "Universal Bimetallism and an international monetary clearing house, together with a record of the world's money statistics of gold and silver," etc., by Richard P. Rothwell, editor of the Engineering and Mining Journal.

ROBERTS BROTHERS have in preparation a volume which will enable all the admirers of the four "Little Women" to read the "Operatic Tragedies" written by "Jo" which were so successfully performed by the four talented sisters. Mrs. Pratt, the oldest sister, sweet, motherly "Meg," had preserved the manuscripts and prepared them for publication as one of the last acts of her life.

THE IDEAL PUBLISHING CO. have on hand a supply of "The Guardian Angel," by Lillian, a book which is said to have the endorsement of William E. Gladstone as "the strongest work of fiction of this generation." The book is written as a refutation of the arguments of Robert G. Ingersoll and his followers. The publishers have a paper edition on hand now, but will later publish the book in cloth only.

THE NEW YORK HISTORY COMPANY have just issued the fourth and concluding volume of "The Memorial History of New York," edited by James Grant Wilson. Among other chapters there is one on "The Libraries of New York," by various writers, and one on "Newspapers and Magazines," by William L. Stone, which are highly interesting and instructive reading. The volume, like its predecessors, is handsomely printed and lavishly illustrated.

LONGMANS, GREEN & Co. have in preparation an edition of the poetical works of Lord Lytton. There are to be three volumes, the first of which will contain "The Wanderers," first published in 1858; the second, "Lucile," the most popular of his writings; and the third, selections of the best of his verse. They have also in press another reprint from Mr. Anstey's contributions to Punch, being "The Man from Blankley's: a story in scenes," which attracted more than usual attention on its appearance.

D. APPLETON & Co. will publish at once in their dainty Summer Series an entertaining book entitled "A Truthful Woman in Southern California," by Miss Kate Sanborn. Miss Sanborn sketches her experiences at Los Angeles, San Diego, Coronado Beach and elsewhere, and her sketches of the life as well as the country are invariably original, humorous and amusing. D. Appleton & Co. also announce for issue in their Town and Country Library "From the Five Rivers," by Mrs. F. A. Steel, who, like Mr. Kipling, has gained distinction by her fresh and forcible pictures of life in India.

THE CHAIN & HARDY COMPANY, Denver, Colo., have just ready the revised and enlarged edition of the "Geology of Colorado and Western Ore Deposits." This work of Professor Lakes, of the State School of Mines, has already run through one edition as applied to Colorado. Now that the Western States have been included the sale is expected to be quite extended. The plates illustrating the geological formations are very elaborate, and illustrate the peculiarities of veins and ore deposits. The book is designed for a text-book, and is also adapted for general reading by those interested in mining.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.*

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p. in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no prices, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

ton's town and country lib., no. 120.) pap., 50 c.

The tutor is a man of thirty with a large brain and a good heart confined in an ugly, unsightly body. He becomes tutor to two young girls, one a strong-minded character given to philosophical and metaphysical research; the other an erratic, lovable hoyden and gypsy. These girls have a mysterious mother. Life at the castle of a rich champagne manufacturer at Epernay, France, is described with much spirit.

*Colorado. Court of appeals. Reports, including cases determined at the Jan., April and Sept. terms, 1892; T. M. Robinson, rep. V. 2. N. Y. and Alb., Banks & Bros., 1893. c. 22+637 p. O. shp., net, $5.

Comegys, B. B. A tour around my library, and some other papers. Phil., G: S. Ferguson Co., 1893. 9+277 p. il. O. cl., $1.

Thirty-one short articles, most of which are written in the form of letters to an old friend. These treat of literary, religious and financial subjects, deal with the personality and work of some great authors, and present some peculiar characteristics of noted men the writer has known.

Curtis, G: W: Other essays from the Easy Chair. N. Y., Harper, 1893. c. 3+229 p. por. T. (Harper's American essayists ser.) cl., $1.

Includes several of Mr. Curtis' later as well as earlier essays, such as are fairly illustrative of his best work. We give the titles of a number as follows: The New Year; The public scold; National nominating convention; Bryant's country; The game of Newport; The lecture lyceum; Tweed; The streets of New York; The grand tour; Francis George Shaw; The American girl, etc.

Dibble Publishing Company's World's Columbian Exposition pocket record book. Chic., Dibble Pub. Co., 334 Dearborn St., 1893. c. 55 p. il. S. pap., 10 c.

Contains illustrations and plans of the buildings, lists of the state buildings, list of countries represented in the exhibit of manufactures and liberal arts, electrical memoranda, live stock exhibit memoranda, etc., with blanks for recording the sights of each day according to a system explained in the book.

Edwards, Clarence E. Camp-fires of a naturalist: the story of fourteen expeditions after North American mammals from the field notes of Lewis Lindsay Dyche. N. Y., Appleton, 1893. c. 8+304 p. il. D. cl., $1.50.

The book deals solely with facts. The account of the adventures of Prof Dyche is taken from his notebooks and diaries, and nothing is added to make the book interesting or exciting. Professor Dyche is professor of zoölogy and curator of birds and mammals in the Kansas State University.

*Federal (The) reporter, v. 54; cases argued and determined in the circuit courts of appeals and circuit and district courts of the U. S. Permanent ed., April-May, 1893. Fraser, Donald, D.D. Synoptical lectures on the books of Holy Scripture. In 2 v. V. 1, Genesis-Habakkuk; v. 2, Zephaniah-Revelation. 4th ed., rev. N. Y., Wilbur B. Ketcham, [1893.] 6+370; 3+357 p. D. cl., $4.

Formerly published by Robert Carter & Bros

Fuller, E. The complaining millions of men: a novel. N. Y., Harper, 1893. c. '92-'93 5+417 p. D. cl., $1.25.

Two lines from a poem of Matthew Arnold—"The complaining millions of men darken in labor and pain"—suggested the title, and give the keynote of the story. The scenes are laid in Boston, chiefly in the haunts of laboring men of Socialistic inclination. Francis Baretta, a Socialistic leader, is one of the chief characters; his career illustrates the emptiness of the views of which he is the exponent, proving, as he does in himself, that all men are not born equal.

Goodale, Mrs. Frances A., ed. The literature of philanthropy. N. Y., Harper, 1893. c. 9+205 p. T. (The distaff ser.) cl., $1.

Contents: General introduction by Mrs. B. W. Bellamy; The literature of philanthropy, by Mrs. F. A. Goodale; Criminal reform, by Mrs. C. R. Lowell; Tenement neighborhood idea, including three papers, two devoted to "University settlement" and "Medical women in tenements," by Mrs. Spahr, Helen Moore and others; The trained nurse, by Miss Agnes L. Brennan; The Society of the Red Cross, by Mrs. L. M. Doolittle; The Indian, by Mrs. A. S. Quinton and Mrs. Elaine Goodale Eastman; The anti-slavery struggle, by various writers; The anti-slavery legacy, by Mrs. M. W. Goodwin; The negro and civilization, by Mrs. J. M. F. Madison, Ja. Journal of the federal convention: rept by Ja. Madison; reprinted from the edition of 1840, which was published under direction of the U. S. Gov't from the original mss; ed. by E. H. Scott. Special ed. Chic., Albert, Scott & Co., 1893. c. 805 p. O. cl., net, $5.

President Andrew Jackson in 1837 authorized the Joint Library Committee "to contract for and purchase at the sum of $30,000 the manuscripts of the late Mr. Madison, to be printed and disseminated at public charge." In 1839 a contract was made for the printing of the work, and it appeared in 1840. In this Columbian year it would seem fitting to reprint a work containing such accurate knowledge of the principles of the American government and the circumstances under which they were recommended and embodied in the constitution for adoption by the great convention of 1787. A general and analytical index covering forty-two pages has been added in this edition.

*Maginnis, Arthur J. The Atlantic ferry, its ships, men and working. Popular ed. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1893. 14+208 p. 12°, cl., 75 c.

Majors, Alex. Seventy years on the frontier: Alex. Majors' memoirs of a lifetime on the border; with a preface by "Buffalo Bill"; ed. by Col. Prentiss Ingraham. Chic. and N. Y., Rand, McNally & Co., 1893. c. 325 p. il. D. (Rialto ser., no. 10.) cl., $1; pap., 50 c.

Alexander Majors originated and carried to success a line of freighter wagons, a mail route from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and a Pony Express, and his book describing all the dangers and obstacles he overcame is a history of the west when the lives of its settlers were risked every hour. "Buffalo Bill" vouches for the authenticity of this record of seventy years amid the Rocky Mountains.

*Mathews, Jos. M., M.D. Treatise on diseases of the rectum, anus and sigmoid flexure. N. Y., Appleton, 1893. 537 p. il. 8°, cl., subs., $5. (Corr. title.)

- *Molesworth, Sir Guilford Pocket-book of useful formulæ and memoranda for civil and mechanical engineers. 23d rev. and enl. ed. N. Y., Spon & Chamberlain, 1893. 783 p. 32°, leath., $2.
- Musick, J. R. Braddock: a story of the French and Indian wars; il. by F. A. Carter. N. Y., Funk & Wagnalls, 1893. c. 9+470 p. il. D. (Columbian novels, no. 8.) cl., $1.50.
Although the Braddock campaign is the episode especially dealt with, many other incidents of this period (1700-1760) of American history are introduced, notably the founding of the debtor's prison in the Colony of Georgia in 1733. Accounts of the boyhood and first love-affair of George Washington are given. The Stevens family is also introduced in the plot.
- *Nebraska. The compiled statutes, 1881, (sixth ed.,) with amendments 1882 to 1893, comprising all laws of a general nature in force Aug. 1, 1893. Published under authority of the legislature by Guy A. Brown and Hiland H. Wheeler. Lincoln, Lincoln Paper House, 1893. c. 8+1196 p. O. shp., $6.50.

The heroine, a young Boston society woman, has married a man much older than herself, and has begun to realize uncongeniality of temperaments, when a handsome young painter comes upon the scene. A good, wholesome story of warning to emotional, unsatisfied women.
- Sheldon, Rev. C. M. Robert Hardy's seven days: a dream and its consequences. Bost., Congregational S. S. and Pub. Soc., [1893.] c. 238 p. D. cl., 90 c.
Previous to its publication in the Advance, where it first appeared as a serial, this story was read by the author, who is pastor of the Central Church, Topeka, Kansas, at consecutive Sunday evening services. Robert Hardy, belonging to the type often called fair-weather Christians, returning from a rare attendance at evening service, falls asleep and dreams he has only one week to live. His subsequent course of action is given, seemingly for the purpose of presenting individual views about the Sunday evening service question.
- *Smetham, Ja. Literary works; ed. by W. Davies. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1893. 8+288 p. 12°, (Eversley ser.) cl., $1.50.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

MR. E. L. WEEKS' description of the journey by caravan from the Black Sea to the Persian Gulf, on which Mr. Theodore Child lost his life, will begin in the October Harper's Magazine. Mr. Weeks was the artist of the undertaking, and his illustrations for these articles are unusually strong and interesting.

THE woman journalist is not to obtain a footing in Japan. The Japanese House of Legislature has just decided that women are not fitted for the work of either editors or publishers, and has consequently passed a regulation to the effect that no one is to hold a post of this kind except a male over twenty-one years of age.

THE New York Herald is to celebrate its entrance to its new building with some novel features. It intends to print colored illustrations such as have never been printed in daily newspapers before; and "wash drawings" and direct reproductions from photographs will adorn its pages. Émile Zola's novel, "Lourdes," will be published in its columns.

GEORGE ILES is authority for the announcement that, beginning next January, an index to periodicals on a new plan will be published weekly in New York. Each issue during a quarter will recapitulate all the titles from the beginning of the quarter; and at the end of the sixth, ninth and twelfth months a special issue will recapitulate all the titles from the commencement of the year. This publication is made possible by the Mergenthaler and similar machines which cast type as a solid line. Its publisher will be J. Wellman Parks, who at present is in charge of the library exhibit of the National Department of Education at the World's Fair.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

AUGUST 5, 1893.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

"Every man is a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help thereunto."—LORD BACON.

THE PUBLISHERS' EXHIBITS AT THE WORLD'S COLUMBIAN EXPOSITION.

FRANCE.—II.

STILL in this second room of the French book exhibit we find sixteen volumes of "La Grande Encyclopédie," a monumental work (prepared exclusively by specialists), published by H. Lammirault & Co., who are planning to complete it in twenty-eight volumes. On another shelf we find another important work of reference, Pierre Larousse's "Le Grand Dictionnaire Universel du XIX<sup>ème</sup> Siècle," published by La Librairie Larousse (Hollier-Larousse & Co.), which has recently been augmented by a second supplementary volume (making the seventeenth of the whole work), which is in itself an encyclopædia of contemporary events. Messieurs Larousse also exhibit "Le Dictionnaire Analogique," edited by P. Boissière; "Le Dictionnaire des Opéras," edited by Felix Clement and Pierre Larousse; "Le Dictionnaire d'Electricité et de Magnétisme," by G. Dumont, and "Les Annales d'Electricité," a supplement to the former; "Le Dictionnaire Complet Illustré de la Langue Française," edited by Pierre Larousse; and "La Revue Encyclopédique," published under the direction of Georges Moreau—a fine array of works of reference, all reaching perfection in mechanical details. A. Le Vasseur & Co. display some interesting illustrated works, among the most notable of which are A. Descubes' "Nouveau Dictionnaire de Histoire, de Géographie, de Mythologie, et de Biographie," a work in two large volumes that has been recognized as official by the Commissioners of Public Instruction; and the complete illustrated works of Pierre Loti, with designs by G. Bourgain and Desiré Bourgain engraved on wood by A. Lévillé.

The law publishers represented include L. Larose & Forcel, who are strong in books and periodicals in their special line, and also have some important publications in political economy;

Imprimerie Paul Dupont, who show specimens of title-deeds, a complete collection of parliamentary debates in France from 1787 to 1860 in 110 volumes, and a fine library of educational works; and A. Storck, of Lyons, who, besides a large line of law-books, has sent some fine works of art, including "Recueil d'Archéologie Lyonnaise," etchings representing the principal ancient architectural monuments of this great provincial city, and some very valuable works on medicine and hygiene.

Among publishers who make specialties of juveniles J. Hetzel & Co. stand easily first, and have sent a long line of children's books, toy-books and educational works. They, however, also carry a most important line of illustrated novels, among which are the works of Jules Verne, Erckmann-Chatrian and Victor Hugo, and, also, several of Viollet-le-Duc's famous architectural works. Another well-known publisher of illustrated gift-books, juveniles, industrial arts and scientific works, Charles Delagrave, has on exhibition "La Chevalerie," by Leon Gautier, a work crowned by the French Academy, full of handsome illustrations; "A History of the Military School of Saint Cyr," with fifty-two illustrations by Paul Jazet, and "L'An 1789," by Hippolyte Gautier, a magnificent quarto volume with 650 illustrations, which according to luxuriance of binding sells from 50 francs to 200 francs. This firm also has fine atlases and dictionaries and makes a specialty of catalogues and bibliographies chiefly for educational purposes. L. Westhauser, Paris, also devotes himself to juveniles, and draws most of his material from Germany and England. He has on exhibition a collection of nearly 200 children's books, among which are many of those movable picture-books first invented by Braun & Schneider, of Munich, and I. F. Schreiber, of Esslingen, Germany. M. Westhauser also displays a line of literary biographies and many important works on military science.

Interesting as are the exhibits of every publisher, we must move a little more rapidly. Librairie de l'Edition Nationale, of which Emile Testard is the leading spirit, exhibits the complete works of Molière, illustrated by J. Leman and Maurice Leloir; the édition nationale of Victor Hugo's works, illustrated by contemporary masters; the collection artistique of the works of Balzac, Alex. Dumas, Mérimée; and a number of other superb editions. M. Testard also publishes an excellent popular magazine, La Revue de Famille. E. Plon, Nourrit & Co. exhibit a collection of memoirs of people noted during the ancien régime, the revolution, the empire and the restoration, such as Marbot, Jarras, Macdonald and others; also, the latest novels and some luxurious illustrated works, among which "La Neuvaïne de Colette" is specially noteworthy. They are also the publishers of La Revue Hebdomadaire, which in history, travel, fiction and contributed articles on contemporary questions is a representative periodical of the intellectual progress of the day, giving an enormous quantity of information and entertainment in its 320 pages per week. Alfred Mame & Fils, of Tours, seem to have solved the problem of cheap, perfect books, and show a large line of publications in which school-books, juveniles, and religious books, prayer-books and missals predominate. They also display a number of handsome illustrated gift-books and works of art. Bélin Frères have educational and classical works, philology, geography, mathematics, etc. C. Reinwald & Co. devote themselves to natural sciences and philosophy, and publish French editions of Darwin, Haeckel, Vogt, Buechner, Broca and others; also, noted works on medicine, anthropology, archæology, etc. They also publish a monthly bulletin of the French book trade, already in its thirty-fifth year. H. Le Soudier shows a long list of educational works, chiefly translations from the German. Hachette & Co. have on exhibition a long list of well-known standard works in history and general literature, illustrated works and éditions de luxe that are truly luxurious in every detail. Among the latter they exhibit "The Book of Ruth," "The Book of Joseph," "The Book of Esther," "The Song of Solomon," "The Capitals of the World," Emile Michel's "Rembrandt," etc. They also have Elisée Reclus' "Géographie Universelle" in eighteen volumes; Perrot and Chipiez' "History of Ancient Art" in five volumes; Littré's "Dictionnaire de la Langue Française" in five volumes; complete sets of many of the best-known French authors and a long line of Greek, Latin and foreign classics. L. Hébert, successor to Alex Houssiaux & Co., displays artistically Coppée's "Œuvres Complètes" in ten volumes, with illustrations by Flameng; Balzac's "Œuvres Illustrées," and illustrated editions of the complete works of Victor Hugo, A. de Musset and Molière. Edouard Rouveyre has a fine exhibit of art publications and of his bibliographical works, including Buchot's, Uzanne's and Dérôme's.

Before leaving this second room we must take special notice of the exhibits of the Cercle de la Librairie and of L. Conquet, two cases we have left until last as they demand and tempt more lingering notice. The publications of the Cercle de la Librairie are chiefly trade publications, bibliographical and literary works of special value to the bookseller. The "Catalogue de la Deuxième Exposition du Cercle" (July, 1881), containing ancient and modern engravings and etchings in exquisite reproductions, is in itself a very important publication. L. Conquet, the bibliophile's beau-ideal, shows in a small but artistically arranged case his choicest publications—books that in every detail are as near perfection as human ingenuity can attain to. Gérard de Nerval's "Sylvie," the daintiest book ever handled by the fastidious amateur, is here, with etchings in the text by E. Rudaux; Gautier's "Emaux et Camées," on India paper, bound by Ruban, one of the latest of the French artistic binders; and Ludovic Halévy's "Trois Coups de Foudre," illustrated from designs by Kauffmann, etched by T. de Mare. Among other works are "Monument du Costume," with illustrations by Freudenberger and Moreau le Jeune, drawn in 1775-1783 to illustrate the manners, customs and fashions of France in the eighteenth century; Champfleury's "Le Violon de Faïence," with thirty-four etchings by Jules Adeline; Alphonse Daudet's "Fromont Jeune et Risler Aîné," with Bayard's drawings, etched by F. Massard, and tastefully bound by Chambolle-Durn; Mme. de la Fayette's "La Princesse de Clèves," a sumptuous edition with etchings by Lamotte; Louis Morin's "Vieille Idylle," in beautiful colored covers; "Memoires de Madame de Staal;" and Bertheroz's "Femmes Antiques," with etchings from illustrations by Bouguereau, J. P. Laurens, Hector Le Roux, Maurice Leloir and other celebrities. No words can do justice to these treasures which M. Terquem keeps under lock and key, but will gladly show to all who can appreciate them and handle them as their luxurious "get-up" makes necessary.

The third room contains the historical and theological publications of Victor Lecoffre, the publisher of Catholic works and books of church music; the illustrated works on the industrial and decorative arts, published by Rouam & Co., most noticeable among which are "La Femme dans l'Art," by Marius Vachon, a work written for the glorification of woman and the influence she has had on art, and the bound volumes of the Revue des Arts Décoratifs, a monthly publication edited by Victor Champier. Here are also the publications of the Syndicat de la Presse, including the great French periodicals, Revue des Deux Mondes, La Gazette des Beaux Arts, La Revue Illustrée, Le Monde Illustré, etc., and the magnificent maps published by the French war department. Various government publications fill the adjoining rooms. Scattered through the rooms of the French publishers' section are exhibits of fine-art pictures, of printing, binding, etc., which we shall describe in our next article.

THE ANGLO-AMERICAN PUB. CO. AND J. SELWIN TAIT & SONS SUCCEED TAIT, SONS & CO.

TAIT, SONS & Co. have issued a circular dated July 25, in which they announce that the exceptional encouragement which they have throughout received from the trade in connection with their English copyright fiction, and the fact that they now as a consequence draw the larger portion of their new literature direct from Great Britain, have decided them to concentrate their attention more closely upon that branch of their business, and to make it, in fact, their special feature. For the better carrying out of this decision they have transferred their interest in Tait's National Library of Best 200 Books to a new corporation, specially organized for the purpose, entitled "J. Selwin Tait & Sons (Incorporated)," with adequate capital and other facilities for carrying out such a large and important work.

With the view of adopting a title which shall the better serve to designate and advertise internationally the special range of their business, and also to avoid any confusion which would arise from similarity of title, the name of Tait, Sons & Company will hereafter be The Anglo-American Publishing Company. This alteration will involve no change whatever in the directory, management, constitution or capital of the company, which will remain in all respects the same, with the exception of the change of name already noted.

The trade will, therefore, in future, address "The Anglo-American Publishing Company" on all business hitherto transacted by Tait, Sons & Company, and "J. Selwin Tait & Sons" on the business connected with Tait's National Library of Best 200 Books. Both organizations will, for the time being, occupy the same offices at 31 East 17th Street (Union Square), New York.

WHAT CONSTITUTES A BOOKSELLER.

THE question of the right of a dealer to adopt a trade character, even though he deals in a thousand different lines of wares, has been for some time causing comment by those who are suffering from the active competition of to-day.

It is estimated by the Newsman that there are twenty-seven thousand individuals in the United States and Canada who deal in books and periodicals. Out of this number how many sell books and periodicals exclusively? Probably less than two thousand. Then, strictly speaking, there are only about two thousand booksellers in America.

"Did you ever see the inside of a country newsdealer's store?" says the Newsman, "one of the real old-fashioned kind, with its stock of dolls, whistles, cheese, envelopes, molasses, overalls, dried apples, fishing-tackle, dry-goods, anchors, and real hard, old cider, etc. Well, if you ask this worthy citizen what trade name he assumes, in nine cases out of ten he will tell you he is a bookseller, notwithstanding the fact that not over ten per cent. of his stock is in books and periodicals. Has he any more right to the use of this name than a large dry-goods store bazaar? Has a small bookseller, who keeps cigars and tobacco in stock, any more right to the name of a bookseller than a dry-goods merchant who keeps a large or small stock of books?"

"Where shall the line be drawn? Where can the line be drawn? The question of right and wrong is not involved. It is merely a question with all dealers: 'Does it pay to keep in stock this or that?' Our idea is that a man can only learn well one or two lines of business. He should stick to these, whether it is tobacco, books, dry-goods, or anything else. If he is a bookseller and understands books, people will find it out, and go to him in preference to the 'Jack of all Trades.'

"In a town or thinly populated district this cannot pay, so the bazaar of the city is only imitated on a much smaller but broader plane. The bazaars are having their day; they are growing beyond bounds. Even they, in the nature of things, will pass away. Then will follow the specialist, the merchant educated in one particular branch of business. A bookseller—books only—a man of books."

ONE WAY OF ATTRACTING TRADE.

THE story is told of a young man who resolved to commence business on his own account. His capital was limited. He rented the half of a small store, and filled it up with books and stationery. His one window gave him little opportunity for display, but he changed it often, kept it tidy, put an occasional vase of flowers in it, and ornamented it in various ways. He was not satisfied with this means of attention, however. He wished to add a permanence of some kind, so that his store would become the natural resort of people, even when they did not wish to buy. He decided upon placing a small, plain writing-desk in a corner near the rear end of the counter, furnished it with pens, ink and paper, so that if a lady wished to write a note or letter, she might find that a convenient and available place. He spread a bit of carpet, placed a chair or two, and made the corner as cosy and pleasant as possible. By degrees he placed a few books of reference on the desk, a dictionary, an encyclopædia, and gave school-girls, or members of literary societies, a place where they could look up any matter in hand. Remember, it was a small town, and there were no reference libraries at hand, no great book supplies of any kind. And, furthermore, his motive was not directly for gain. It was only a desire to please his patrons, to minister to their convenience and comfort. It was a step in the right direction, and proved itself such.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

AFTER completing work on his "Lourdes," Zola may write some stories for children or carry out a pet scheme of his and write a history of French literature, which, he intimates, "will be quite different from what has ever been written on the subject before."

BROTHER AZARIAS, who has been lecturing at the Catholic Summer School, is dangerously ill at Plattsburg, N. Y., with pneumonia and heart trouble. He is a teacher of English literature in De la Salle Institute, East 59th Street, New York City, and is widely known as an educator and polished writer. His worldly name is P. F. Mullaney, and he is forty-five years of age.

CHARLES R. HILDEBURN, of Philadelphia, has compiled a quarto volume of about 500 pages on "The Issues of the Press in New York, 1693-1783." It contains the full titles, and whenever the originals were accessible the collations, of 1500 items, and reproductions in fac-simile of fifteen of the most important books printed in New York before 1784. The edition is limited to 450 copies.

SHERIDAN'S great-grandson has placed at the disposal of Fraser Rae the carefully preserved papers of Sheridan which Moore inspected but could not print. Mr. Rae will use this material in expanding his biography of Sheridan, which has been long out of print. The material includes letters that passed between Sheridan and his first and second wives and those written by him and the Prince of Wales, as well as a corrected copy of "The School for Scandal."

BELFORT BAX is at work upon a history of the social side of the Reformation in Germany. The work will be in three volumes, the first dealing with the general conditions of the period and with the earlier symptoms of social upheaval, the second with the Great Peasant Rising of 1525, and the third with the rise and progress of the Anabaptists down to their final success and defeat at Münster in 1534. The first volume will be published early in October.

PICK-UPS.

THE Pall Mall Magazine contains a table which it calls "Mudie Measure":

"Ten lines make one page;
Ten pages make one point;
Two points make one chapter;
Five chapters make one episode;
Two episodes make one volume;
Three volumes make one tired."

A FATAL BLEMISH.—The Poet: How about my poem?—The Magazine Editor: I'm afraid, my dear sir, that is unavailable. The metre is perfect, the phrases are polished and the rhymes accurate; but my literary adviser informs me that while perusing it yesterday he distinctly saw what he felt convinced was an idea in it.—Chicago Record.

BUSINESS NOTES.

ALBANY, N. Y.—Among the companies incorporated here on the 1st inst. was that of Bryan Taylor & Co., to carry on a general publishing and bookselling business in this city; capital, $100,000. Directors: George J. Bryan and C. W. Brown, of Brooklyn, and Henry W. Knight, of East Orange, N. J.

BOSTON, MASS.—Ticknor & Co. on July 27 made an assignment to Charles Fairchild, of Lee, Higginson & Co. It is reported that there will be no difficulty in effecting a settlement. The firm, it will be remembered, was called into existence in 1885 after the failure of James R. Osgood & Co., and besides books published the American Architect.

BOSTON, MASS.—The trustee of Winkley, Dresser & Co., booksellers and stationers, proposes to settle their affairs on the basis of thirty cents on the dollar, cash. It appears that their assets are $120,207.50, and their liabilities $159,540.44.

CLEVELAND, O.—George T. Andrews, formerly with Cobb, Andrews & Co., of Cleveland, and late with the National Library Association, of Chicago, has become an active member of the firm of The Taylor-Austin Company, of 116 Public Square. The list of officers now is W. R. Austin, president; G. T. Andrews, vice-president; W. H. Cathcart, secretary, and H. A. Taylor.

COMPTON, CAL.—Robert Harris has bought the book and stationery store of George H. Marsden.

DENVER, COLO.—The following letter will explain itself:

DENVER, COLO., July 25, 1893.

To the Editor of The Publishers' Weekly.

DEAR SIR: We find that several of the Chicago, New York and St. Louis papers have made the statement that The Chain & Hardy B., S. and A. Co., of Denver, went down in the crash that came to Denver during the past ten days; and we would like you to kindly state in your notices that such is not the case, but that we have weathered the storm without closing our store, and are doing business now as usual, and expect to continue to do so.

It was hard raps for everybody in business in this section, and trade has been very much demoralized, but the skies are now brighter and the feeling is much better; and we are now taking good heart and making strong efforts to rebuild the business to its normal condition at the earliest possible moment.

Trusting that you will deny the rumor of our failure, which would greatly oblige, we are

Yours respectfully,

THE CHAIN & HARDY B., S. AND A. CO.
J. W. BONMAN.

LANCASTER, PA.—Charles Ream, for upwards of five years with Zahm & Co., has opened a book-store in his own name at 26½ East King Street. He will deal in new as well as second-hand books, in which line he has had exceptional experience, and carry a full line of stationery, etc.

NEW YORK CITY.—John A. Taylor, the New York and Toronto publisher whose disappearance a couple of months ago created not a little excitement, is not dead, as it was at first supposed. He made his appearance in this city a few weeks ago, but departed soon after, and that is the last that has been seen of him here. His former office is closed and mail addressed to him is returned to the sender. His business here was attached and the entire amount seized did not meet the first claim. Since then many judgments have been entered against him.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

RAND, McNALLY & Co. have in preparation the Proceedings of the Bankers' and Financiers' Congress held in Chicago from June 19 to 24.

FREDERICK A. STOKES COMPANY have in preparation a volume of poems by William H. Hayne, which will be the first of a series to be entitled Young American Poets.

E. P. DUTTON & Co. have nearly ready "The Phillips Brooks Year-Book." This book contains an appropriate selection from Bishop Brooks' writing—one page to a day for each day in the year.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS have just ready a dainty little volume of "Stories of the Sea" to match the "Stories of the South," "Stories of New York" and "Stories of the Railway," already published.

D. LOTHROP COMPANY have just ready "Little Children in the Church of Christ," by Rev. Charles Roads. The book is intended for the use of pastors, superintendents and teachers, Christian Endeavor circles, and all who are interested in the Kindergarten of the church. It contains outline sketches and directions for their use on the black-board.

MACMILLAN & Co. have just ready a new and cheaper edition of "The Memories of Dean Hole," which abounds in bright, sparkling anecdotes of all kinds of people; "A Treatise on the Theory of Functions," by Prof. James Harkness, of Bryn Mawr College; and "Folia Litteraria," essays and notes on English literature, by Prof. John W. Hales, of King's College, London.

WILLIAM BEVERLEY HARISON will publish on the 15th inst. "The Foreigner's Manual of English." This is prepared for use in mixed classes of foreigners, and can be used without any knowledge of the several languages, as English only is used throughout. It has been carefully corrected to embody all of the suggestions of Gouin, whose book appeared after completion of first ms., and during revision the ms. has been successfully used in teaching Chinese, Polish Jews and others absolutely ignorant of both written or spoken English. The lessons are arranged to give in each a concrete subject, and a useful vocabulary is given to enable the student to talk from the beginning.

J. SELWIN TAIT & SONS have now ready a number of volumes in their Tait's National Library of Best Two Hundred Books, which will be shown to the trade within a week. These volumes are well printed on fine paper, each illustrated with from four to six new wood-cuts, and substantially bound in cloth and half calf. Some of the cloth volumes are in plain library style, others are ornately gilt, sides and back. The volumes in half calf are substantial, and may unhesitatingly be recommended as in the best library binding. This series will prove a welcome addition to the bookseller's stock, being made up of salable standard and copyright books at a reasonable retail price, allowing a fair profit to the dealer.

ANSON D. F. RANDOLPH & Co. (Incorporated) announce: "Where We Went Gypsying Across the Sea," 2 vols., by William Bement Lent; "Shakespeare's Female Characters," by Helen Faucit (Lady Martin); "Across France in a Caravan," with 50 illustrations, by John Wallace; "Pictured Palestine," by Rev. H. Neill; The Pul- pit Commentary, 2 vols., on the Minor Prophets; "Religion in History and in the Life of To-Day," by Principal Fairbairn (new edition); "Brightening the World," by Rev. H. C. Hayden; "The Near and Heavenly Horizon," by Mme. De Gasparin (a new edition); "The Mystery of Grace, and other sermons," by Dr. Hugh Mac-Millan; "Complete in Christ," by Charles Spurgeon; "Christ Mystical, or, the blessed union of Christ and his members," by Bishop Hall; "Memoranda Sacra," by Prof. J. Randel Harris; "Poems," by May Riley Smith, author of "Sometime," 2 vols.; "Under the Nursery Lamp," poems about children, new illustrated edition; "Women's Thoughts from Famous Women"; "Men's Thoughts from American Statesmen"; "Christmas-Tide in Song and Story," 2 vols. (new edition); and "Under King Constantine," by Katrina Trask, second edition.

NOTES ON CATALOGUES.

THE "General Book Catalogue" for 1893-94, published by Barnecott & Pierce, Taunton, Eng., will, it is announced, contain several pages of illustrations selected from the important books of the year. This is an entirely new feature. The catalogue, as usual, comprises the titles of all books generally kept in stock and of standard works, with a full index. (160 p. cr. 8°, sheets.)

BEGINNING with the first number of Volume 4, New Series [April, 1893], the quarterly "Bulletin of the Public Library of the City of Boston" will contain only subject lists, special bibliographies, and reprints or fac-similes of original documents, prints and manuscripts in the library. The classified list of newly acquired books, heretofore published in the quarterly "Bulletin," will be brought down to April 17, in a supplement, but after that date there will be published weekly, instead of this classified list, an alphabetical list of new titles printed from the type set up for new cards for the card catalogue, so that the titles in the weekly list will be similar in all respects to those in the card catalogue. The April issue contains another instalment of the third and enlarged edition of "a chronological index to Historical Fiction"; a list of works upon the electric telegraph and the telephone in the Boston Public Library; a list of Transactions and other serial publications of societies and institutions, currently taken in the library; also a list of books relating to the Hawaiian Islands. 88 p. 8°, + a fac-simile in color of a chart of Boston Harbor made by order of Sir Edmund Andros; also supplement containing titles of books added to the Bates Hall and Lower Hall from January through April 15, 1893. 76 p. 8°.

CATALOGUES OF NEW AND SECOND-HAND BOOKS.—American Academy of Political and Social Science, Station B, Phila., Publications. (20 p. 8°).—C. N. Caspar, 437 E. Water St., Milwaukee, A rough list of second-hand and new law-books in stock. (No. 39, 16 p. 16°).—Anton Creutzer, (formerly Mr. Lempertz,) 54 Kleinmarschierstr., Aachen, Erziehung und Unterricht, Schul-, Universitäts- und Gelehrten-geschichte. (No. 60, 3095 titles.)—Bernard Quaritch, 15 Piccadilly, London, Rough list of recent purchases. (No. 134, 66 p. 8°).—Scientific Pub. Co., 27 Park Pl., N. Y., Descriptive catalogue of scientific, technical and other useful books. (6 p. 8°.)

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted," subscribers only are entitled to a free insertion of five lines for books out of print, exclusive of address (in any issue except special numbers), to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents per line, and amount should be enclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents per line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents per line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

Under the heading "Books for Exchange," the charge is 10 cents per line. No deduction for standing matter.

Under the heading "Situations Wanted," subscribers are entitled to one free insertion of five lines. For repeated matter and advertisements of non-subscribers the charge is 10 cents per line.

All other small advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents per line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

Parties desiring to receive answers to their advertisements through this office must either call for them or enclose postage stamps with their orders for the insertion of such advertisements. In all cases we must have the full address of advertisers as a guarantee of good faith.

Houses that are willing to deal only on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash].

Write your wants plainly and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as "not having been received."

THE MEMORIES OF DEAN HOLE.

"From grave to gay, from lively to severe," the motto placed on the opening page, admirably sets forth the main features of a book which no one, we venture to say, will lay down without regret."—The Churchman.

"If any one wants to enjoy a truly delightful and charming work, we advise him by all means to purchase a copy of these 'Memories,' which we assure him will amply repay the reading, and which he will lay down with the Sam Weiler wish that 'there was more of it.'"—Living Church.

"It abounds in bright, cheerful, sparkling anecdotes of all kinds of people, artists, writers, preachers, statesmen, scholars of deserved eminence. There breathes through the charmingly easy, flowing, rambling, chatty volume a spirit of broad, cheerful, hopeful, helpful humanity that will scarcely fail to make every generous reader love the cheery and bright-spirited author."—Commercial Advertiser.

By LILLIAN.

The book has the unqualified endorsement of Wm. E. Gladstone, the great English premier, as the strongest work of fiction of this generation.

"The arguments as set forth by Robt. G. Ingersoll and others as opposed to revealed religion are in the new novel by Lillian practically and forever silenced."

The story has just been completed as a serial in Everybody's Ideal, and the immediate demand for it in book form has from the readers of the journal been almost universal.

A limited paper edition at 30 cents retail, printed from the original plates, large clear type and good paper, is now ready. Subsequent editions will be printed from new plates, and probably sold only in cloth at $1.50.

The Rudolph Indexer Book.

(Patented in the United States and all Foreign Countries.)

Method of Indexing is the same as that employed in the Rudolph Continuous Indexer.

The RUDOLPH INDEXER BOOK consists of a number of card-holders of heavy card-board with one or two columns on both sides. On the back edge of each card-holder are two double hinges by which means other card-holders may be flexibly connected or disconnected.

Independent book-covers are furnished, and a book may thus be formed of one card-holder and later increased as desired. If the book becomes too bulky it may be separated and by adding covers two or more independent books formed.

The Rudolph Indexer Case.

(Patented in the United States and all Foreign Countries.)

Method of Indexing is the same as that employed in the Rudolph Continuous Indexer.

The RUDOLPH INDEXER CASE consists of a series of card-holders placed on their edges in a drawer, and they may be turned as the pages of a book, exhibiting at each view 272 single-line entries.

We furnish the INDEXER CASE in one, two, four, six and eight drawers.

The capacity of each drawer is thirty card-holders. As both sides of the card-holders are used it is equal to 8160 single-line entries.

The Rudolph Card Cutter.

(Patent Pending.)

This invention is for the purpose of cutting the entries or cards for insertion in the card-holders, but can also be used for many other purposes.

It is very important that all the slips to be inserted in the card-holders be cut at perfect right angles, in order that each entry will fit exactly to the others.

An unnecessary margin of only 1-32d of an inch on the top and 1-32d of an inch on the bottom of each entry will amount to 3/4th inches of waste space on each card-holder.

The cutter will cut cardboard where spacing between the printed or written lines is 1-64th of an inch.

THE RUDOLPH CONTINUOUS INDEXER.

(PATENTED IN THE UNITED STATES AND ALL FOREIGN COUNTRIES.)

THE LIBRARIAN'S DESIDERATUM. THE MOST PERFECT INDEXER.

The RUDOLPH INDEXER SYSTEM possesses many advantages which recommend it to Publishers and Booksellers—in fact, to any one who has occasion to use lists of books, names or samples of goods, photographs, etc.

It is entirely flexible, allowing any number of entries to be placed in the INDEXER at any point.

It presents to the eye at one time as many entries as six pages of the American Catalogue.

Entries are protected from being soiled by exposure or handling.

Economy of space and economy of expenditure of both time and money.

The INDEXER stands 42 inches high and is 20 inches wide by 30 inches broad.

We shall be pleased to give further information and list of testimonials from leading librarians.

Through the courtesy of the American Library Association the INDEXERS are now on exhibition with the Bureau of Education's exhibit in the Government Building at the World's Columbian Exposition.

THE first edition of this work was exhausted on the date of publication, and the book is already in its third edition. A production of remarkable power. The writer is absolutely fearless in his denunciation of American practices abroad which he condemns. EVERY ONE IS READING THE BOOK.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"The author of 'Americans in Europe' is to be lauded for his patriotism."—N. Y. Times.

"A book that is sure to have a sale and to be talked about."—N. Y. Herald.

"The author holds the mirror to the life and character of Americans in foreign countries with some startling but salutary disclosures of things that ought not to be. . . . The most entertaining book of the day."—Boston Globe.

"This breezy and interesting book has all the candor and independence of an anonymous work, and will be read with pleasure or profit, or both, according to the fancy of the reader."—N. Y. World.

"The writing bears every stamp of truthfulness and honesty, an invaluable requisite of such a book, while its simple style and elegant English sentences, strong and expressive, make every chapter delightful reading."—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

"It is a trenchant and powerful work, and there are no dull pages."—Troy Daily Times.

"A book any one can read with profit and enjoyment—a book an educated man or woman would find suitable to take to the sea-shore and peruse during the short intervals between other and perhaps more important pursuits."—N. Y. Evening Telegram.

"Thoroughly entertaining. . . . Such a book is of considerable value to those who think of crossing the Atlantic, and it is just as entertaining to those who stay at home."—Kansas City Journal.

"The author has pungent chapters on the dangers to which American young men and girls are exposed in Paris when they go there to study art and music, and mothers are warned not to send their daughters to the American Sunday-school at the French capital, that institution being denounced as a hot-bed of flirtation."—Boston Beacon.

"The author of this book handles the subject without gloves, and gives us accordingly a brilliant, caustic and bitter review of the characters and careers of most of the American men and women who have become of late years prominent in European society. . . . There is a good deal of hard sense in his book and it deserves the notice it is sure to excite."—News and Courier, Charleston, S. C.
